

MCGILL RACQUET WELDERS WIN INTERCOLLEGIATE TITLE AT KINGSTON BY NARROW MARGIN

Wright Beat Ham in Straight Sets—Wright and Leslie Drop One Set to Ham and Nunns—Brilliant Tennis—Varsity Only Four Points Behind in Total Score—C. I. L. T. U. Officers Elected

For the six successive time McGill has won the Intercollegiate Tennis championship. When Jack Wright came through to beat Ham on Saturday morning and followed it with a win in the doubles paired with Leslie the title was theirs. At the beginning of the third day's play the score was tied, McGill and the University of Toronto each having 12 points. Two points were given for each of the final events and either team had to win both to gain the championship. The final score was McGill 18 Varsity 14.

The heavy rain the night before had not hurt the courts so that conditions on Saturday morning were not exactly favourable, were at least fair. The singles was the first match with Ham of Varsity facing Jack Wright of McGill. The first set was very close with each man winning the other's service, a very unusual occurrence. The play was fast at all times and when the set went to deuce it was anyone's to win. Wright finally pulled out 5-6 but not until he had to fight every point. The winning of the set seemed to give Wright more pep and he ran off the next two in quick succession 6-1, 6-2. Ham put a game losing fight in the last two sets but could not compete with his opponent's brilliant shots.

Shortly after, Ham and Nunns the Varsity doubles team took the court determined to tie the tournament by a win over Wright and Leslie of McGill. For a short time it looked bad for McGill stars as Ham and Nunns took the lead in the first set at 4-2. However Wright and Leslie steadied down and managed to take the next four straight games and the set 6-4. In the second set the McGill team had a walkover and won 6-1. Many games were closely contested in this set but the Toronto pair seemed to lack the punch to put across the final point. The third set was a complete reversal of form as Ham and Nunns allowed their opponents only two games. This was productive of some great tennis but the unplayers of the Red and White did not seem able to get going as they had before. After the rest period, they came on refreshed and Ham and Nunns stood no chance.

RABBI SAMUEL HAS CRITICISM FOR HISTORY

Says Picturesque Settings Give False Impressions LARGE TURNOUT

Activities for Year Announced—Will Study Bible

"In our mental capacity we are not changed; we paint different pictures but not better ones." These were the words of the noted Rabbi Herbert J. Samuel who spoke about "Ourselves in History" to members and guests of the Macabean Circle of McGill University, Sunday, at the McGill Union ballroom.

This Rabbi Samuel, now leading Temple Emanuel, illustrated to his many listeners that, since we are the same as our predecessors and essentially do the same things, the history of past events may be used to gain an insight to the problems of today.

"But, in the recording of history, the picturesque element has played too great a part, with the result that the real facts become hidden."

"History, as a record of things done in every day life, becomes interesting, just as a normal man is more interesting than an abnormal one."

Continuing, Rabbi Samuel gave several incidents which convinced his audience that accounts of ordinary persons throw a more sincere and truthful light on the past than does picturesque scenes, which too often make history artificial. An extract from a letter of Maimonides upheld his opinion admirably.

Previous to introducing the speaker, Samuel E. Schweisberg, president of the Macabean Circle, welcomed back the members of previous years and announced a special invitation to newcomers of McGill, both men and women, to join their ranks. He also commented on the favorable turnout to this initial meeting of their twentieth year.

The program for the year will include several first class speakers, each of whom will make it worth while for those who attend. Another feature will be study groups, one for those interested in modern affairs and one of those wishing to make a comprehensive study of the Bible. For the Bible group Rabbi Samuel has consented to act as advisor. Bernard L. Cohen B.A. will be chairman of both sections.

During the early part of the meeting, Miss Hilda Blumer offered a piano solo, which not only pleased the audience but also brought forth favorable comment from the speaker of the evening.

Those in charge of the Macabean Circle this year, elected last spring, are: President Samuel E. Schweisberg; Vice-Pres. Charles Brownstein M. A. Treuss, Bernard M. Alexander; Treasurer Ethel Grossman; Cor. Sec., Maurice Brodie; Executive, Bernard L. Cohen B.A., Jack Klingberg B.A., Frances Layloff, Nathan Lech B.A. Florenz Louis.

SUN LIFE RUGGER TEAM BEAT MCGILL

Score of 6-3 in Saturday's Game

Scoring two tries to McGill's one the Sun Life Rugger team took Saturday afternoon's contest on the campus. The Red and White had the better of the play for most of the contest but their opponents had three wonderful men on the three quarter line who kept continually intercepting McGill passes and breaking up McGill plays.

The game was very efficiently handled by Helmer Huston, a member of the South African team which toured the world in 1911.

In the first half McGill kept the ball in the Sun Life territory and succeeded in scoring a try which was not converted. Then Sun Life broke through the three-quarter line and made a beautiful run for a try which they failed to convert. Score at half time, Sun Life 3; McGill 0.

For a few minutes in the second half, Sun Life kept the ball down near the McGill line and finally got through to make another try. After that McGill rallied and had the play between Sun Life's 25 yard line and their goal line. There were constant scrimmages on the visitors' five line but the Red and White could not break through to score. The game ended with the final score, Sun Life 6; McGill 3.

RED AND WHITE CAPTURES RELAY

Hurd Puts Home Team Ahead

McGill runners, although losing at first, finally won the Intercollegiate mile relay contested for during the half time of the McGill-Queen's game at Molson Stadium, Toronto. Queen's and Western were the challengers.

Setting the advantage at the start and holding it until the home stretch, Russell of Varsity slowed and broke even with Blumer for the first lap.

Hurd, getting a good transfer from Blumer, then put McGill in the lead and the crowd on its feet as Mabee of Varsity was threatening though still behind.

McGill widened their lead in the third as a result of Toronto fumbling the stick and Airey's good running. But when the third Blue and White man dropped the stick altogether and Patterson romped off with sure success, every McGill rooster was on his toes, cheering.

Western University finished third but not being a member of the Intercollegiate Union, forfeited her place to Queen's.

ECONOMICS CLUB TO HOLD MEETING

Students Will Debate on Election Platforms

The many issues at stake in the coming elections will be carefully dealt with at the meeting of the Economics Club which takes place on Wednesday next.

Three students will represent each one of the three parties and will set forth the platforms of these with great detail.

Eugene Forsey will outline the ideas of the Conservative Party and will endeavour to show why this party is the one which will best lead Canada to the forefront. Forsey graduated last May winning a scholarship in Economics and is now studying for his Master's degree in the same subject.

The Liberal stand will be taken by E. M. Godline, Art's representative on the Students' Council. He is also a keen student of Economics and should uphold his party well.

Gordon Levy B. A., a student of political economy in the Graduate School, will speak on behalf of the Progressive Party. He has spoken before the club several times and has been a frequent contributor to the Literary Supplement.

Dr. Leacock honorary president of the club is expected to be present. In view of the fast approaching elections and the eligibility of a large number of students to vote and who wish to learn more about the political situation the meeting should be very well attended.

FRESHMAN SOPHOMORE DANCE FRIDAY NIGHT

The first informal dance of the season will be held next Friday evening in the Union. It will be known as the Freshman-Sophomore dance and will afford a good opportunity for both years to get together, especially now that the rushing season is over. The affair will be informal and everyone is invited to attend. The caterer will

R.V.C. TO HAVE SPORTS MEET ON SATURDAY

Eliminations Will Take Place This Week MOLSON STADIUM

Cup Goes to Class Winning Greatest Number of Points

Practices are still being held for R. V. C. Sports Day which takes place on Saturday Oct. 24 at the Molson Stadium. There will be four track and five field events, the program starting at 10:30 a. m. These events are open to all women students of the M. W. S. A. A. (Group II).

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at this meet as the sale of tickets is steadily increasing. Each student should be able to sell a number of tickets and to go herself to support her team. The year which wins the greatest number of points gets one point towards the coveted R. V. C. Banner and is also awarded the inter-class shield for sports. Last year this shield went to the class of 1926 who are this year's Seniors. There is also a cup awarded to the individual champion of the day. Miss Glen Cameron '27 won this at the last meet. Another cup is given the class which wins the relay.

Three records were broken in last year's sports. Miss Roba Dunton now holds the R. V. C. record for High Jumping, while Miss M. Dougall and Miss N. MacMartin shattered former records in the javelin throw and the 50 yd. dash. The prospects are bright for more records being broken this year as some promising new material has turned out for practices while last year's competitors are in excellent form.

The events are as follows:

- TRACK
1. 50 yds flat race
 2. 100 yds flat race
 3. 220 yds class relay (4 in a team—55 yds each)
 4. Hurdles

- FIELD
5. Running High Jump
 6. Running Broad Jump
 7. Window Jump
 8. Throwing Javelin
 9. Throwing Basketball

Students may compete in three out of four jumps. This includes No. 4, and one of these events must be No. 7. They may also compete in two track events out of four. This makes five events in all that one student may enter. The Relay Race counts as one of these five.

ANNUAL BOARD TO CONVENE TO-DAY

Work on Old McGill '27 to Start at Once

Work on the 1927 edition of the McGill Annual is to be begun at once with a meeting of the Annual Board scheduled for to-day.

For the benefit of the newcomers to McGill it might be well to set forth a few facts in explanation of just what the McGill Annual is.

The Annual, as the name implies, is published each year by the juniors of all the faculties and departments of McGill University, including R. V. C. and Macdonald College. The first Annual was published by the Class of '98 and it has appeared every year since. While the information which it contains is of particular interest to the Junior Year yet it is really a synopsis of the session at McGill. All the University clubs and activities are fully dealt with and the whole volume is profusely illustrated.

The Annual has shown a wonderful improvement within the last few years and it now compares favourably with the other annual published by the universities of the world.

It is probably that Ted Newton, who was editor of the Old McGill 1926 will act in a very busy capacity this year's editorial board.

It is imperative that one representative from the Jun or year of each of the following faculties and departments should attend the meeting of the Annual Board in the Annual Board Room of the McGill Union at 5 p.m. to-day: Arts, Commerce, Medicine, Dentistry, Law, R. V. C., Architecture, Science, Theology and Macdonald College.

These representatives have not yet been elected it is necessary that they should be elected before the meeting late this afternoon.

TRI-COLOUR STILL SUPREME; DOWNED MCGILL SQUAD 14-0 IN HARD FOUGHT CONTESTS

Batstone and Leadley Scintillated—Chantler Played Fine Game—McKelvey Scored First Touch of Game—Thomas Went Over for Second on a Great Run—St. Germain Kicked Well for McGill—Mickles Missed Drop by Inches in First Quarter—Captain Philpott Starred for Red and White

(By Gridiron Gus)

The Queen's football team showed conclusively on Saturday that it is not slipping or degenerating as prophesied but is still a great football team by downing the McGill Senior squad by a 14-0 score. The great Tri-colour backfield showed all its old time flash and worked with the same cohesion and precision that has brought them three Dominion championships. Queen's is worth of the title and bids fair to repeat again this year. Batstone and Leadley were the great pair as of old and played in marvellous form. Their two understudies, Chantler and Voss were not far behind them and when the time comes for Batstone and Leadley to leave college, Queen's will have two stellar backs to fill their shoes.

CAPTAIN PHILPOTT

Starred for McGill in Saturday's struggle.

It was the playing of the tiny Chantler that most surprised the fans. The diminutive half has acquired all of Bill Hughes' tricks at running back kicks and end running and on Saturday showed up as one of the most effective men of the Queen's team. Leadley who did the kicking disproved the popular illusion that he should be laid away on the shelf. His kicking was as good as ever and he has lost none of his old time flash in carrying the ball. Captain Batstone is going at his best this year and is a fitting captain of a great team.

McGill went down in defeat but they went down fighting, bowing to a better team. It was a case of youth against age, experience against youthful fighting team. On the line, the McGill squad completely shadowed their opponents and were better gainers by bucks through the line. The Queen's line was punctured twice and again by McGill ball carriers and when their own plungers attempted a buck they always stopped short or were thrown for a loss. Queen's won by their magnificent open field running—the old story.

St. Germain who was in action for the first time in an Intercollegiate senior contest did the kicking for McGill and showed that he ranks with the best. He got more distance in his punts than the veteran Leadley but short in height and the Queen's backs had plenty of chances of getting away. And once Batstone or Leadley got away—good night—they made twenty or thirty yards. Hanna and Cameron were not far behind the Tri-colour flashes in running back kicks and many times got away for good gains. Both the McGill backs made good gains on bucks through the line and were the best line plungers for McGill. Captain Noble Philpott played a great game for the Red and White team and was in on every tackle. Mickles at quarter played a well defensively and only by hard luck missed a drop in the first quarter.

A Good Start

It was that attempt drop in the first quarter that seemed to take the pep out of McGill. They started off at a fast clip and soon had the ball on Queen's five yard line. The Tri-colour held and two bucks failed and Mickles tried a drop. It hit the crossbar bounced back 10 yards out. It was a tough break for McGill. Voss who was doing the kicking for Queen's went around the end for forty yards and a few minutes later added another twenty yards on and end run. There was plenty of kicking in the first quarter and neither team had any decided advantage. Cameron just managed to run out the ball from behind the goal line and saved McGill a point. It was a great piece of work on the part of the "Artful Dodger" The McGill line was in danger another time during this quarter when Queen's had the ball on the five yard line. Two bucks save Queen's but three yards and the McGill line put up a stone wall defence. They failed to go over on three downs and McGill got the ball and kicked out of danger. The quarter ended without any scoring.

Kicking duels between St. Germain and Leadley featured in the second quarter. St. Germain was getting more distance in his kicks but the Queen's halves were running back the ball on each occasion. Cameron and Hanna were also contributing their share in running back the ball but were watched more closely than the Queen's pair Batstone and Leadley were eluding the McGill tacklers by their plowing stunt and elusive running. Near the end of the quarter, McGill was penalized twenty yards for no yards in tackling and Queen's got the ball on McGill 20 yard line. Leadley kicked the ball out of bounds for a rouge. The quarter ended soon after leaving the score at half time Queen's 1 McGill 0.

At Half Time

The relay race which was the hang-over from Friday's Track Meet was run off at half-time. McGill won the race easily all four, Red and White runners showing great bursts of speed. Varsity suffered a tough break when their third man fell in finishing though it is doubtful if they could have won for McGill had a lead at the third lap and Patterson increased it in the final. Other attractions offered the spectators were an impromptu rugby game staged by the Freshmen Year and the frantic efforts of the cameraman to film it Harold Lloyd after many ups and downs but mostly downs succeeded in going over for a touch and was carried off the field. The two bands were also in action and kept the crowd well supplied with music. The newly organized Queen's band made their first appearance here and played well for their first year together. The Red and White Band marched up the field and at half-time marched around the track. They made a great impression on the crowd both with their music and their natty appearance.

It was in the third quarter that the Queen's team went wild and scored most of their points. The fireworks started early in the third when Leadley came in fast to get his short kick. He was unable to catch the ball but dribbled it ahead of him and Queen's secured on McGill two yard line. McKelvey went over on the first down for a touch. It was not converted although the convert should have been easy to make. Play see-sawed up and down the field and the ball went as far as the Queen's 10 yard line but Leadley kicked out of danger. A moment later on a McGill fumble Queen's secured and Leadley kicked for Queen's second rouge and their seventh point.

A Great Play

Then came the play that showed the Queen's team were the Queen's team of old. Chantler started an end run around McGill's right and after making some thirty yards passed to another Queen's man. Three or four Tri-colour players figured in the run and finally Thomas went over for a touch. It was a great play by the Presbyterians and the kind of football that won them three Dominion Championships. Leadley converted the try giving Queen's thirteen points. Queen's added another point in the fourth quarter when Batstone returned St. Germain's kick and the McGill back was forced to rouge. The period ended with Queen's in possession of the ball.

MCGILL COACHES GIVE VIEWS ON SCARLET KEY

The establishment of an active Scarlet Key Society would be a decided benefit to McGill. In the opinion of Coach Spanghnessy who with Coach Van Wagner kindly gave their views on the matter at the request of a member of the Daily Staff.

The rugby mentor was enthusiastic in his praise of such societies citing Dartmouth as an instance where a Key Society had been largely responsible for the promotion of a splendid loyal college spirit which McGill might well emulate. As can be seen from this the scope of the body is far from being confined to the entertainment of visitors but includes the supervision of all campus activities and reserves to itself the special duty of perpetuating the traditions of the university.

While reluctant to make a definite statement regarding the introduction of such a society, the track coach intimated that he would be entirely favourable to its adoption if the Students' Council or some other body, after a thorough study of the situation found that conditions were not up to the standard of other colleges.

Though much is said all too little is seen of the McGill spirit. If I have had the stadium left open every afternoon for weeks past, but there are barely more than a few score of students who came up to watch the teams practice," reflected the coach pointing out at the same time the contrast shown in other colleges and intimating that conditions were not up to the standard of other colleges.

Arrangements for the entertainment of visiting teams at McGill are at present in the hands of the managers and though Mr. Van Wagner stated that the desire of all teams with which he was connected had been satisfied to the fullest extent possible, Coach Spanghnessy expressed the belief that so far as he was concerned there was still room for improvement in the preparations made.

Coach Van Wagner declared himself as being very interested in the phase of activities under discussion and recounted a number of widely different college exceptions with which he had come into contact. Some universities made no attempt to entertain their guests but adding by the letter of the contract only, considered their official duties as an end with the close of the feature game or match. At other freshmen were detailed to attend to the slightest wish of each visitor from the time he stepped off the train until the moment of departure.

The coach thought that there was less need of organized entertainment at McGill, situated in a city the size of Montreal, than at many other colleges, centered in small towns. He emphasized the fact that the esteem in which a university is held largely depends on the impressions carried away by their guests. One advantage therefore of a Scarlet Key Society would lie in the appointment of the hosts who would be representative of the best type of student. A manager hard-pressed for time, is frequently forced to place important details in the hands of inexperienced men.

Remarkable on the enthusiastic praise of Dartmouth hospitality which returning teams invariably expressed, Coach Spanghnessy sincerely hoped that visitors might leave McGill with similar impressions. The Scarlet Key Society would insure these, and in exerting a unifying force on the undergraduate body as a whole would seem to be a highly desirable innovation.

MONTREAL, MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1925.

THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

In this issue of the Daily is being published the first section of the Financial Statement of the Students' Society. Undergraduates are advised to look over this so that, if they have any desire to say anything connected with student finances at Wednesday's meeting, they will have some idea of what they are talking about.

There is one thing they should bear in mind. That is the division of the seventeen dollar universal fee. Of this ten dollars goes to the Athletic Board, so that the Council sees nothing of it. Three dollars is allotted to the Union, a dollar and a half to the Daily, while one dollar goes to the undergraduate societies, leaving a dollar and a half from each student for the Council to expend on all other activities under its jurisdiction.

APPROPOS OF ELECTIONS

We are now witnessing—in case some are unaware of the fact—all the heat and fury of another election campaign, not the least important issue of which is the current immigration policy. The merits and demerits of the different arguments advanced we shall not discuss here. The point is this, such polemic leads us to reflect upon certain plain facts which should not be disregarded by conscientious students.

Nothing has proved so startlingly that our land is in dire need of men of foresight, spirit and courage, as the present election campaign. But what has all this to do with immigration? Just this, that Canada needs to-day more men of great intellectual qualities before she requires soldiers of the soil to swell the already over-burdening number in the ranks of the unemployed. Why flood the country with farmers—where we lack sufficient statesmen to guide them? A body without a head is quite as hopeless as a head without a body.

Of course, we cannot all become statesmen, many have no desire or intention to be such. But we can all, during our years of study at McGill, give occasional thought to the vital needs of our native land, as well as to our own selfish requirements.

Men of character, men of vision, men of action will ensure a Canada yet undreamed of. Let us all bear in mind, whether we aspire to distinction in the medical world, or fame in the courts of law, that men who place country before self will inevitably be the gainers in the end.

CONDENSED COMMENT

Although the football game on Saturday was lost, the usual lack of cheering when the home team is trailing was not so noticeable. Despite the size of the crowd, the rooters showed remarkable ability for keeping in co-ordination with their leaders and the variety of the yells was quite as pleasing as the volume and quantity. Well done, Thundering Thousand!

STRONG ELEVEN HAS BEEN PICKED

Soccer Team Plays S. S. Montclare

All players who have been practicing soccer are requested to be on hand at four this afternoon when a practice will be held.

On Tuesday the soccer team which has been chosen to represent McGill against Springfield, Yale and West Point will play a practice game on the Campus against the S. S. Montclare. The S. S. team is made up of first class experienced players and the McGill eleven will have a very strenuous game. Mr. Henderson will referee. The soccer team has been very fortunate in finding material to replace Seaton, Bellamy and Cane, graduates of last year and excellent soccer players.

MacLeod, Gavin, Shippam and Denny are the new players, and joined with Amaron, Stephenson, Giovando, Archibald, Reitz, Kelland, Moffatt and Scott, should make the Red and White team equally as strong as last season's eleven.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

29th September, 1925.

THE PRESIDENT AND MEMBERS,
Students' Council of McGill University.

Dear Sirs:—

We beg to report that we have completed an audit of your books for the year ended 30th June, 1925, and enclose Financial Statements as shown by the index appended hereto.

We have verified the Cash in Bank and the Securities owned.

We saw satisfactory vouchers for all disbursements with the exception of those made in connection with the "Burke Concert" of the Musical Society.

During the year a piano was bought by the Musical Society, and the sum of $950.00 paid on account of the purchase price. This amount has been written off in the Revenue and Expenditure Account of the Society. The piano is carried in the books at $250.00, which is the balance of the purchase price yet to be paid.

The Excess Expenditure for the year amounting to $3,415.69 has been deducted from the Surplus Account. We would contrast this figure with an Excess Revenue last year of $1,879.00. The principal items contributing to this difference are as follows:

MCGILL UNION:

Increase in Repairs over last year of about $1,500.00.

Cafeteria—increased loss over previous year $900.00.

In the latter connection we would again draw attention to the increase in the percentage of cost of provisions to sales as compared with the previous year.

MCGILL DAILY:

Loss $183.62 as compared with an Excess Revenue of $1,170.55 last year.

Increase in office salaries and expenses of over $800.00.

Subject to the above remarks we certify that in our opinion the attached Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the Council's affairs according to the information and explanations given to us and as shown by the books.

Yours very truly,

MCDONALD, CURRIE & CO.,

Auditors.

TRI-COLOUR STILL SUPREME; DOWNED McGILL SQUAD

the ball and the game. Final score Queen's 14 McGill 6.

What puzzled most of the spectators after the game when the usual post mortems were discussed was "how on earth Varsity had held Queen's to an 8 to 5 score and had beaten them to all indications for three quarters of the game." Varsity is certainly not a better team than Queen's or at least they do not look nearly so strong on paper. The only possible explanation is that the champions had an off day that Saturday—a very bad off day. The close call they had evidently bucked them up for as the fifteen thousand that saw them in action on Saturday will testify, they are not slipping but seem to be going better than ever before.

The game was refereed by Bob Webster and the umpire was Joe O'Brien and as usual neither gave decisions that pleased the crowd.

The teams lined up as follows:

Queen's	McGill

Le Petit Parisien

Dear Monsieur McGill Daily:

I am visit ze librare Redpath last Friday for ze first time and as I am huge student of human nature I derive much enjoyment therefrom but I am not able to study. I travel down to ze end of ze hall and I find a piece of vacant seat. Turning my eyes to ze left hand side, I see nice sight, and also my enamoured one, which is engage in pressing soft brush with powder on it, to her sweet face. She look at herself in a mirror, and she seem dazzled by her own beauty.

I start to read my book and I hear buzz-buzz to ze right. Two fellows are engage in conversation. One he say "What you going to do to-day?" Ze other he say he don't know. Then I think they talk about ze value of ze date as a convenient commodity. And then they laugh. But I remember ze notice to not carry on conversation, and I feel ashamed. Then a companion next to me ask me what ze time is. He say ze clock in librare is never right — they put it fast in order that students who leave ze librare at 11.05 can catch ze lecture of 11 o'clock. I tell him and he say "you take such-and-such a subject?" I say yes. He say "is it not ze professeur a d — a crazy lop-sided antiquated mugwump?" And I say "why?" And he say, "well all ze fellows say" so I say to him in tones dignified "I am ze all ze fellows, and I have one opinion de mol-meme. I like ze professeur, so shut up." And my companion laugh, and say, "When is your next lecture?" I take no notice. He prod me in ze side, and laugh once more. I have to answer him. Then he ask me how I do problem in algebra. I feel like telling him to go to ze red-place, but I refrain. Just then ze attendant of ze cloak-room come forward, and I think he coming to me. But no, he stop at my companion and he say "What for you leave your coat on ze window-seat, I will take it to ze cloak-room. Come and get your check." Ze fellow smile a smile full of glee, lie, in ze face of ze attendant, and say "It is time for lecture, I must go." And I am jubilant. I think to myself, "Ze corporation de la universite McGill should kick these fellows out, and let us good men do our work without trouble." But just then ze attendant come back, and he approach me. He say

"What for you have your coat on. You not wish to check it?" And I jump up to apologize, and he say "Don't talk in ze librare." But he whisper "It is all right, but do not take it off." And I say "No sir, never." Your loving friend, Augustine deBuckette.

THE BELLS OF BEAUTY

The city clashed about me in strife of stone and steel, The thrusting of the piston, the grinding of the wheel, When sudden something was calling, A silver sound was falling, And the city grew quiet like a dog brought to heel, Then drifting from a high hill, fung down from a star, Slipping thru a strait gate Fancy left ajar, In muted silver chiming, Like quiet words rhyming, I heard the bells of beauty call from afar.

Savings Bank Deposits $104,722,000.00 more in July 1925 than in July 1924

What more convincing proof can be had that Canadian people have prospered under King than the fact that Canadians had in Savings Banks Deposits $104,722,795.00 more in July 1925, than in the same month in 1924.

A comparative statement of savings deposits in the various chartered banks of Canada for July 1925, and July 1924, cannot help but be accepted as fair proof of the prosperity of Canadian people.

Comparison of Bank Records - Savings Deposits

	July 1924	July 1925
Union Bank	$ 48,836,693	$ 50,972,678
Dominion Bank	52,601,051	57,466,051
Standard-Sterling	42,545,396	46,226,128
Banque Canadienne Nationale	73,432,331	77,186,519
Imperial Bank	56,901,032	60,475,146
Bank of Toronto	46,648,039	50,800,944
Banque Provinciale	25,514,291	28,073,807
Bank of Nova Scotia	108,834,836	112,503,468
Canadian Bank of Commerce	199,414,482	206,884,278
Royal Bank of Canada	189,336,525	202,007,919
Bank of Montreal	304,264,034	360,454,567
TOTAL SAVINGS DEPOSITS	$1,148,328,710	$1,253,051,505

INCREASE - $104,722,795.00

No one, not even Mr. Meighen, nor his ally Mr. Patenaude, can possibly be so foolish as to deny that these facts denote a marked improvement in the general industrial and business conditions of this Country. The Canadian people will hardly be misled by statements of calamity and ruin, in the face of such a substantial increase in their Savings deposits.

That it has been possible for the Canadian people to increase their savings to such an extent proves beyond a doubt that general business and industrial conditions must have undergone a most marked improvement for which the Liberal Government must be given full credit.

Much more remains to be done, and King, on his past record, has proven that he can be relied on to accomplish it. In your own interests, and to ensure a continuance of prosperity, give him your support on October 29th.

A Vote for the Liberal Government is a vote for Economy, Unity and Prosperity

CORRESPONDENCE

The Daily is not responsible for sentiments of letters published in the correspondence columns. Signed communications from graduates, undergraduates and members of the faculties will be placed in print if they are not of too great length.

Correspondents are requested to observe the unwritten law of the newspaper office—that they write upon ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER ONLY. No communication will be admitted in this column without the name of the writer being attached, not necessarily for PUBLICATION.

The Editor,

McGill Daily.

Dear Sir:—Your very classical but seemingly cross and needlessly pseudonymous correspondent, Aristophanes of Byzantium (he did, I am sure, put an "i" in the name of his home town) had a much better case against me than he knew. "Different than," I find is QUITE respectable. It may be found occasionally in Carlyle, and even in Addison and Steele. I apologize to Mr. Mackenzie King.

But it makes little or no difference to my main criticism—which by the way was not launched at Canadians in general.

Yours truly,

RICHARD ROBERTS.

(Ed. note.—In justice to Aristophanes, it must be said that he did spell the name of his home town correctly. The error was the printer's.)

The Editor,

McGill Daily.

against the kind of articles which you are allowing to appear in our literary columns.

I refer specifically to a poem which appeared in Wednesday's issue under the title "A Cynicism".

In the first place it had to do with a delicate subject which might very well be left alone in the undergraduate literary efforts. Furthermore it is questionable whether Mr. Taylor had got the facts right. Many she-wolves young have died without homeless little babes turning up at the biological moment to be fed, and the she-wolves have not been any the worst for it, so make an exception in the case of this one.

It is all very well for Mr. Taylor to plead that the whole story is only a legend, but at least he ought to refrain from imputing motives to the she-wolf which that creature never entertained for a moment.
